WALL COLLAPSED.

A Terrible Tragedy Narrowly Averted Saturday Night.

A Brick Wall Falls and Almost Kills Seven Negro Men.

About 10:30 o'clock Saturday night the wall of the brick building recently burned near the L. & N. depot, fell with a crash upon the low roof of a little shanty just across a narrow alley from it and crushed it to the ground. It was occupied as a restaurant, which was run by Ike Smith. In the room at the time were Ike Smith, John Taylor, Tom Mallory, Frank Phelps, Sam Hale, Walter Campbell and Bill Browder.

It is almost a miracle that they were not killed, but all escaped with their lives. Taylor, Phelps and Hale were considerably bruised, but not seriously hurt. The stout counter in the room held up the mass of debris and enabled the men to crawl out, though Taylor says he was compelled to pour soup on the fire in the overturned stove to put it out, while he was working his way out.

This plant covers 62 acres of ground, and employs 6,100 hands. 21,326 carloads of material and machines entered and left the factory during 1898. No other harvester works in existence can approach these figures in output, sales, shipments, or size of plant.

Above is the birth-place of the Deering binder. At maturity it issues thence to conquer the world, for its field of operations are not confined to the United States, but stretches out to England, France, Scotland, Germany, Hungary, South Africa, Russia and Australia. The great Corliss Engine used in the Machinery Hall at the World's Fair is used in the twine department. This factory turns out 31 miles of twine and one complete machine per minute. Its size, capacity and number of employees surpass any other two Harvester works in the world.

The Deering is now away in the lead owing to its progressive policy. It used ball bearings four years before the others followed suit, and in many other features it is equally as far ahead. THEY ARE EASY TO SELL because they are easy to run and easy to keep running. This is our twelfth year as Deering agents. You can always find repairs for it right here. Buy the best and you will never regret it.
